DODGE DIVORCE IN FORCE ANEW

SO DODGE WILL APPEAL, THO ANXIOUS TO MARRY AGAIN.

Morse's Counsel, on Their Part, Will Now Ask to Have the Decree Annulling Mrs. Dodge's Marriage to Morse Set Aside—Effect on Criminal Case.

Supreme Court Justice Truax decided yesterday that Mrs. Clemence C. Dodge-Morse's divorce from Charles F. Dodge should stand as valid and that the report of Referee William G. Davies, that Dodge had been duly served and had instructed Lawyer Mortimer A. Ruger to act as his counsel, should be confirmed.

The present status of the Dodge-Morse divorce muddle (pending appeal) is now

Mrs. Dodge's divorce from Charles F Dodge, in 1899, is upheld. Therefore, her subsequent marriage to Charles W. Morse, the bank president, was valid. Therefore, the decree setting aside the Dodge divorce is invalid, as is also the interlocutory decree annulling Mrs. Dodge's marriage to Morse, which decree she obtained when her divorce was annulled. In rendering his decision

Justice Truax said: The evidence shows very clearly that the defendant, Charles F. Dodge, authorized Mortimer A. Ruger to appear for him as his attorney in this action. Motion to set aside the order vacating and setting aside the judgment herein is granted.

Dodge swore that he had never beet served in the action and knew nothing of it

Bodge swore that he had hever been served in the action and knew nothing of it. Since the proceedings have become ventilated both in the newspapers and in the District Attorney's office, Dodge has kept away from the New York jurisdiction. He has been indicted here for perjury, and is at present in Texas, defying extradition proceedings and relying upon illimitable funds from an unknown source.

A. H. Hummel, who represented Dodge in the action, is not satisfied with Justice Truax's decision. He said yesterday:

"As I have stated from the outset, the entire matter is one which should be decided by the Appellate Division of our Supreme Court. It is now in a position for such appeal: and this tribunal of last judicial resort will have to determine whether the divorce was collusive, which fact has not yet been decided."

Mr. Dodge has been described as desirous of marrying again; nevertheless, desiring of marrying again; nevertheless, desiring to have his divorce annulled. Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Morse, made the following statement:

"The decision is just what I expected, and it practically ends the civil litigation. The next step will be to make application to set aside the interlocutory degree annulling the Morse marriage. This application will be made as soon as the papers can be drawn."
"How will Justice Truax's decision effect the Dodge perjury case?" Mr. Untermyer was asked.
"It will weaken it materially. I should

"It will weaken it materially, I should think. You notice the decision doesn't say that Dodge was served personally, but that he authorized the appearance of an attorner."

If the interlocutory decree is set aside the relations of Mr. Morse and Mrs. Dodge-Morse as man and wife will be reestablished without another marriage ceremony. In other words, the relations of Mr. and Mrs. Morse will be just as they were before Dodge applied to have the divorce obtained by his ormer wife annulled.

Mrs. Morse is now in Europe and Mr. Morse is out of town. He is under subpoena to appear before the Grand Jury on May 2 to give testimony in the case of "Charles F. Dodge and others" charged with considered.

CITY FATHERS EUCHRED By Major Woodbury, Who'll Get His $370,-000 Stable Without Their Leave.

Street Cleaning Commissioner Woodbury will get his $370,000 stable in Brooklyn despite the avowed intention of the Tammany members of the Aldermen's finance committee to kill the appropriation. A resolution providing the money asked for by Major Woodbury was passed by the Board of Estimate in the last week of February. It was sent to the Aldermen, who, under the Charter, must pass on all bond issues within six weeks. The Aldermen sent the resolution to their Finance Com-mittee, which decided at first to report it unfavorably, then to wait until the Alderman in whose district the stable is to be built could be heard from.

Last week there was no meeting of the Aldermen or of the committee. Yesterday Commissioner Woodbury contended that the allowed to the Aldermen to the Aldermen to the state of pass upon the appropriation expired on saturday and it had become effective Saturday and it had become enecuve without their sanction. Corporation Counsel Delany agreed with him, so the Commissioner can now begin the building of the "château" stable which for more than a year he has been trying to get

PAJAMA POKER AT YALE. Freshmen Who Lose Must Leave Their Clothes With the Winners.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 4.-It was learned to-day why many Yale students during recent weeks have mysteriously dashed out of Pierson Hall dormitory at all hours of the night with hardly enough clothing on to cover their limbs and disap-pear in a nearby building where they room. Some of the freshmen who room in Pierson Hall have adopted a new penalty for those who lose in the poker games that are played by the freshmen. Instead of playing for money they stake their clothes, putting so much value on each garment. The game ends only when the first freshmen has put up everything but his stockings. There is a pajama outfit in the room that he dons and then he goes home, leaving every stitch of his clothing behind. Next day he comes back after the clothes.

Some Threaten to Make Trouble If New York Soubrettes "Roast" Them in a Performance in the Local Theatre Next Saturday Night-Sketch May Be Cut Out

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., April 4 .- The vachtsmen of New Rochelle are agitated over a performance which is to be given next Saturday night in the New Rochelle theatre. A protest has reached the committee in charge of the entertainment, and it is thought that at least a part of the programme will have to be cut out, as it contains references to several prominent society people and yachtsmen who have hreatened to make trouble if it is pro-

This part of the programme is a sketch written by a yacht club member and is called "Babes in Yachtland." Several very gay looking New York soubrettes dressed as skippers are to sit on a wall in a scene representing the front of the yacht club and deal out "roasts" on the members. It has leaked out that the jokes are spe cially severe on some of those who were on the board of trustees and were voted out of office at the last annual meeting. Soubrettes are also to burlesque a certain cakewalk which caused a dissension among he women of the club last summer. At this cakewalk the prize, a ten pound frosted cake, was given to Dr. Foote and a young society woman who led the walk. Loie Fuller, the famous dancer, who was present, said openly that another couple should have received it.

Since the character of the piece was made public nearly every yachtsman in New Rochelle has been wondering if he is to be burlesqued. Some have notified Commodore Joseph Donovan that they will publicly resent any mention of their names on the stage, and one man has threatened to get out an injunction to restrain the performance unless he is assured that his wife's name will be omitted. The theatre committee is composed of some of the gayest yachtsmen along the Sound, and they say that they are going to have a lot of fun, no matter whom their

Almost all this sum is invested in Standard Oil securities, from which she derives a large income. Large sums are expended for the maintenance of poor relatives whom she used to befriend,
